

Marriott Griffin Gate RESORT & SPA

A first-class spa is just one of the additions at the Marriott Griffin Gate.

The hotel

If you joined us in 2007, you know that the Marriott Griffin Gate is an exceptional conference venue. Attendees raved about it, rating it one of the best locations we've had in twelve years of Users Conferences. And, it's even better today! One notable addition is its luxurious new spa.

The 2010 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games conclude just weeks before our conference, so you know that, as the closest major hotel to the site of the Games, the Marriott Griffin Gate WILL make sure everything is just so! The Marriott will no doubt host some of your favorite media personalities—and possibly even some members of the world's royal families. Who knows? Join us at the Marriott, and someone very famous may have just occupied your room!

Reserve a room

Make your reservation directly with the Marriott Griffin Gate. The easiest way to do that is to click the "Marriott Info & Reservations" link on our conference site. You may also call the Marriott reservations line at 800-228-9290. If you call, be sure to mention that you are with Suran Systems to get the conference rate:

$115/night single, double, triple or quad occupancy

Rates are good 3 days before or after the conference, based on availability. The Marriott is only 15 minutes from the Lexington airport and has ample FREE PARKING.

Note: The conference room rate is guaranteed only through September 30, 2010.

Fall is beautiful in the Bluegrass region of central Kentucky! Why not take advantage of the conference rate and extend your stay? For tips on lots to do, go to: www.visitlex.com

The ideal place to Focus on Training

Just one month prior to our conference, worldwide attention will focus on Lexington as it hosts the 2010 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games. This prestigious competition only happens once every four years and has NEVER BEFORE been held in this hemisphere!

We're proud that the world's eyes will be on Lexington this fall, but training is the real focus of our conference.

"Many 'Aha!' Moments"

Terri Whitney-Jackson

I sent a text message to our pastors and said, "I'm really excited about this; I can't wait to share it with you." I'm so psyched! Coming to the conference is so important. I get so much information, and it revitalizes my passion. [The conference] takes away the issue of everything being about data and makes it about the congregation. Because . . . that's what we do . . . serve people.

Terri Whitney-Jackson, Elliott Church, Newton, MA

This is my third CDM+ conference, and I look forward to it every year. I look forward to getting new ideas, to meeting people who also use the system and to being challenged to use the program in new ways that we hadn't thought of before.

Barb Stevens

I like how the conference is put together and organized, and I like being able to interact with the CDM+ staff . . . they're always extremely helpful.

Barb Stevens, Upland Community Church, Upland, IN

This conference has helped me immensely in being able to go back and provide better reports for the people who make the decisions. It has been very enlightening in that you get to see the different ways it's being used by different churches and how they interact with the system.

NO OTHER TRAINING EVENT COMPARES! THE ANNUAL USERS CONFERENCE IS . . .

The PREMIER Way to Focus on Training

What's So Special about the Annual Users Conference?

We have several good ways to help you get the training to make the most out of your data management system, but this event is the best of the best! The Annual Users Conference is unique in its mix of comprehensive classroom training along with the opportunity for hands-on practice in a fully-equipped lab where you can get one-on-one help if you need it.

The best atmosphere for learning is one in which you can truly focus, but that can be difficult when day-to-day tasks keep beckoning, as they often do when training takes place in your own office. Here's your once-a-year chance to get away to the serenity of a resort setting and really concentrate. You'll be amazed how energized you'll be when you leave and how productive you'll be when you do return to the office.

Conference Specifics

Registration starts at 8:00 a.m. on Monday morning, November 1, and the last class ends at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon, November 3. All times are Eastern Daylight Time.

Range of Classes

Whether your database program is CDM+, CDM+ Regional or DonorWorks, and whether you're new to your data management system or already a power user, the Annual Users Conference has classes for you. Plus, we have suggested tracks to help you decide which combination of classes best fits your situation and level of experience. As the date draws nearer, look for our suggestions and the complete agenda at: www.cdmpplus.com/Training/2010UsersConference

The Computer Lab and One-on-One Help

You are welcome to bring your own laptop, but it's not necessary because trainers use projectors during classes. For hands-on help, visit the state-of-the-art computer lab between classes or at the scheduled lab time. Practice your newly-acquired skills right away.

Got a problem that's specific to your situation? The computer lab is also the place to find one-on-one help from an expert trainer or even a programmer.

The Conference Fee

On or before July 30: $450 for users enrolled in Annual Support program; $575 for other users

After July 30: $550 for users enrolled in Annual Support program; $675 for other users
